

Part of the joy of owning a Corvette is knowing your car has all the right stuff—the right combination of power, handling, and styling to be a winner in just about any situation. To help experience the full measure of enjoyment in owning a Corvette, you owe it to yourself to consider joining the Northern Virginia Corvette Club (NVCC).

Founded in 1969, NVCC is a group of individuals whose backgrounds and interests are diverse, but who share a common bond—the love of Corvettes and having fun with them. NVCC offers a wide range of activities for Corvette enthusiasts. They include:

Autocross: Timed competition on a closed course designed to test the skill and reflexes of the driver as well as the Corvette's acceleration, braking and handling. Autocross courses are set up with traffic pylons through which contestants must navigate. With only one car on a course at a time, the objective is to complete the course in minimum time and with no penalties. Classes are based on engine compression, horsepower and/or modification. All autocrosses are open to members and non-members driving Corvettes. There are also occasional special challenge events with other car clubs. Participation in these events is limited to Corvettes and club members from the other clubs.

Concours: From the term "concours d'elegance," literally "a gathering of elegance." A concours is a show competition in which Corvettes are judged for cleanliness and/or authenticity. Classes include street driven, pure stock, custom, and race prepared. NVCC sponsors a major annual concours held at Koons Chevrolet, in Tysons Corner, Virginia. This site provides an ideal location for preparing and exhibiting Corvettes and for attracting the viewing public.

Rallyes: Events in which a team of driver and navigator follow a list of clues and instructions to get from a starting point to a finishing point. Unlike "time/speed/distance" rallyes, NVCC rallyes are more the "seat of the pants" variety, relying on trick clues, questions and other gimmicks to challenge participants.

NVCC members often participate in local car club autocross activities and compete in other sports car club events. In the past, this has included the Porsche/Corvette Challenge autocross and track time at Summit Point Raceway.

NVCC also sponsors a variety of social events that include scenic road cruises, picnics, bowling nights, local parades and high school homecomings, attendance at theatrical shows and professional sporting events, and an annual banquet. Most are designed for family participation.

Equally important as planned activities, NVCC members serve as a talent and resource pool for each other, sharing experiences and Corvette knowledge. Whether you are interested in racing, restoration/rebuilding or concours, there's someone in the club who can help with advice, information or an extra pair of hands to help tackle that big job.

NVCC is recognized by the National Council of Corvette Clubs (NCCC), a nationwide organization.

NCCC sanctions hundreds of events each year that are hosted by member clubs. Participants in these events, which usually consist of concours, rallye or autocross activities, earn points toward NCCC annual championship trophies. NCCC establishes standard competition rules for these events.
